

EMS in English Nordic Independent

www.idpnordic.se

Edition date: 1 January 2009

EMS codes listed and in full*Section I*Codes and recognized colour varieties

The full terms in english are those already used in the EMS list and in the list of breeds and colour varieties (recognized by FIFe). Eye colour in full for 62 is normally orange, there are some exceptions for which amber is used. See < >, respectively the breed list at the end. For some new breeds and colour varieties the full description in english comes from the organisation where it was originally recognized.

More information about the EMS system can be found far back in the list (page 92).

< > only in certain combinations and in certain breeds, see breeds marked with < >

Colours

n	black <seal> <ruddy/normal><bronze>
a	blue
b	chocolate
c	lilac
d	red
e	cream
f	blacktortie <sealtortie>
g	bluetortie
h	chocolatetortie
j	lilactortie
o	cinnamon <sorrel>
p	fawn
q	cinnamontortie
r	fawntortie
w	white

Combination letters

- m dilute modifier dependent (only in combination with a, c, e, g, j, p, r), uncertain existence
- s silver
- t amber/light amber (only for NFO and only in combination with n/a/f/g)
- y golden (only in combination with lower case letter + 11, 12, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25)
- x not recognized variety

FIFe has introduced the additional code br to indicate "brush coat" for cats with a length of hair of 2 mm or more. Concerns only the breeds DSP (Don Sphynx) and PEB (Peterbald). Cats with this code (br) are not recognized for shows, which is indicated by letter x behind DSP (DSP x br *) and PEB (PEB x br *), respectively.

Colours with white

- 01 van
- 02 harlequin
- 03 bicolour
- 04 mitted <only for ragdoll>
- 05 SNO-white <only for snowshoe>
- 09 unspecified amount of white

Tipping - Shaded - Shell

This serie also indicates agouti (tabby).

- 11 shaded
- 12 shell/chinchilla

Agouti - Tabby series

- 21 tabby (agouti) unspecified pattern
- 22 classic tabby (blotched tabby) <marble>
- 23 mackerel tabby

- 25 ticked tabby <ABY> <SOM>

Colour restriction series

- 31 sepia (burmese coloured) <AMB> <AMT> <BUR> <TIF>
- 32 mink (tonkinese coloured) <TOS> <TOL>
- 33 pointed <SIA> <BAL> <RAG> <SBI> <SNO> <SYS>
<SYL> <NEM>

Tail length <only for MAN, CYM>

- 51 rumpy
- 52 rumpy riser
- 53 stumpy (up to 3 cm tail)
- 54 longie

Eye colour

- 61 blue eyed
- 62 orange eyed
- 63 odd eyed
- 64 green eyed
- 65 burmese eye colour – yellow
(varies: chartreuse | golden yellow | amber)
- 66 tonkinese eye colour - turquoise/aquamarine
- 67 pointed (himalayan) eye colour - blue

Example of full printing of eye colour

- ns 22 black silver classic tabby
- ns 22 62 black silver classic tabby, orange eyed
- ns 22 64 black silver classic tabby, green eyed

The eye colour is only given when it – in the breed in question – can be separate classes for different eye colours with the same coat colour and when the coat colour in full, gets another name when the eye colour is differing from the normal.

Ear shapes <only for ACL, ACS, SFL, SFS>

- 71 straight ears
- 72 curled ears
- 73 folded ears

Others

Var shorthaired cat that carries the gene for long coat

For breeds that also exist in pointed colours - eye colour code (67) is not given

Some breeds that are recognized in pointed colours, are now also recognized with white codes 01-02-03, varieties that not yet are listed. Nor is the list complete regarding all silver- and golden combinations that are EMS technically possible. The list may later on be increased with those varieties in full too.

Dilute modifier dependent colours

The genetic knowledge about dilute modifier is unsecure. Dilute modifier seems only to be observed together with diluted colours (a, c, e, g, j, p, r).

An extended list of dilute modifier dependent colours can be found at Siamese/Balinese, Seychellois Shorthair/Longhair, Oriental Shorthair /Longhair, Tonkinese Shorthair/Longhair.

Section II*Special descriptions for certain breeds <marked>*Abyssinian (ABY), Somali (SOM)

The abyssinian (ABY) is the shorthaired original breed. The abyssinian has a longhaired equivalent in the somali (SOM). They have the same standard, colours, codes and full descriptions. The code for ticked tabby (25) is not given, as those breeds always are ticked. The respective breed code is followed by:

n	Ruddy (normal)
a	Blue
o	Sorrel
p	Fawn
ns	Black silver
as	Blue silver
os	Sorrel silver
ps	Fawn silver

---

American Burmese (AMB), American Tiffany (AMT)

The american burmese (AMB) is the shorthaired original breed. There is a longhaired equivalent in the american tiffany (AMT). They have the same standard, colours, codes and full descriptions. Neither the code for burmese colour restriction (31), nor burmese eye colour (65) is given. The respective breed code is followed by:

n	Seal [sable]
a	Blue
b	Chocolate [champagne]
c	Lilac [platinum]

Description in [brackets] are only used in USA.

---

Bengal (BEN)

The same codes as for other breeds are used for the bengal, however the descriptions in full are different. The bengal (BEN) is always patterned, either as marble (22) or spotted (24). Furthermore it is found as fully coloured (no further addition), sepia = burmese colour (31), mink = tonkinese colour (32), snow = pointed (33). The code for eye colour is not given for the bengal. The breed code is followed by:

n 22	Black marble
n 24	Black spotted
n 22 31	Seal sepia marble
n 24 31	Seal sepia spotted n 22 32	Seal mink marble
n 24 32	Seal mink spotted n 22 33	Seal snow marble
n 24 33	Seal snow spotted

Apart from the colours above, the bengal has also been bred in blue and in silver. For those, the breed code is followed by:

ns 22	Black silver marble
ns 24	Black silver spotted ns 22 31	Seal sepia silver marble
ns 24 31	Seal sepia silver spotted ns 22 32	Seal mink silver marble

as 24 33	Blue snow silver spotted

Burmese (BUR), Tiffany (TIF)

The burmese (BUR) is the shorthaired original breed. The burmese has a longhaired equivalent in the tiffany (TIF). They have the same standard, colours, codes and full descriptions. Neither the code for burmese colour restriction (31), nor burmese eye colour (65) is given. The respective breed code is followed by:

n	Seal
a	Blue
b	Chocolate
c	Lilac
d	Red
e	Cream
f	Sealtortie
g	Bluetortie
h	Chocolatetortie
j	Lilactortie

Burmilla (BML)

The burmilla (BML) is a shorthaired breed of the type similar to english burmese. The burmilla is always silveragouti, either as shaded (11) or as shell (12). It may also have two burmese genes ( $c^b c^b$ ), a fact that can be noted with the burmese code 31 if wanted. The burmilla is green eyed (64), however the red gene group is allowed with amber eyes (62). The eye colour is not given for the burmilla. The breed code is followed by:

Black gene group

Egyptian Mau (MAU)

The egyptian mau (MAU) always shows spotted tabby pattern, either in bronze or in black silver. It exists as non-agouti and as agouti. The breed code is followed by:

ns	Black smoke
n 24	Bronze spotted tabby
ns 24	Black silver spotted tabby

---

Norwegian Forest Cat (NFO)

The norwegian forest cat (NFO) is found in the same colours/patterns as MCO, SIB, TUA - except shaded (11), shell/chinchilla (12), ticked tabby (25) - plus the ones mentioned below (amber/light amber dependent colours) that are valid only for norwegian forest cat. In the Nordic IDP those colours are not recognized. Therefore the EMS code is preceded by the letter x (e.g. NFO x nt 22) in the Nordic IDP. The breed code is followed by:

XLH	Non recognized longhair breed

The purpose of the EMS system is to show the breed and colour of cats and to do this in an abbreviated form. The EMS system has its origin in FIFe and is now widely spread all over the world.

A certain breed of cat is identified by three upper case letters, where the first one is the one beginning the name of the breed. Often S or L is used as last letter to indicate hair length. The three-letter system is copied from the sport's world, where the nationality of the competitors is shown by three upper case letters.

Then comes a lower case letter for the base colour and if necessary, additional lower case letters for silver, golden, dilute modifier, amber.

Depending of breed and/or variety, then follows numerical codes indicating white patching, tabby pattern, colour restriction, tail length, eye colour, ear shape.

In its shortest version the EMS system fits into one single A5 page (210 mm x 148 mm).

This book contains the complete EMS system with codes and colours/varieties in full for all breeds in Nordic IDP.

FIFe can be found at: <http://www.fifeweb.org/>

FIFe GF 2003, from the minutes

Page 17 (38):

"FIFe does not recognise nor create an EMS code for the Munchkin. FIFe does not create EMS codes for any type of "wild cat".

Page 18 (38), in connection with change of name and code for oriental and javanese:

"After a brief discussion on the codes to be used as these differed from the international codes usually used for these cats. Mr Preiss (A) explained that the principle of the EMS codes, where there was a long and short hair version of the breed, was based on the first two letters of the code being the breed and the last letter indicating the length of the fur.

The private use of other terms was not prohibited by this official coding.

Other breeds (not yet registered in the Nordic IDP) - with preliminary FIFe breed code, they are not recognized in FIFe and their breed code is therefore followed by non (in FIFe)
